The Foreword

*It is the purpose of this Yearbook to present in miniature a picture of today's campus life as compared with its earliest beginnings;
keep in mind
the past accomplishments
and visualize the future
as you turn the pages of this,
THE 1949 EAGLE*

istration

The democratic spirit which Tennessee Tech strives to impart to each of her outgoing students is perfectly reflected in the life of her leader,
President Everett Derryberry.
Under the direction of the President
and his able assistants,
the entire staff and student body are united in working toward one goal—the growth and prosperity of Tennessee Tech.

MUSIC IN ACTION

The Music Department is now completing its second year as a full department, and during this period has made material progress in all branches of its work.

In response to increasing demands, a second curricula has been added to meet the needs of those students who plan to enter professional rather than music education fields.

Considerable improvement is shown in the recitals, and gives evidence that Tech will soon send out a group of young artists of whom it may well be proud. Those now wishing to appear in recital as soloists, members of ensembles, or composers have to appear for faculty auditions before permission to appear is granted.

This year the music organizations have been extremely active. The Tech band last year played for all home games, and also participated in games held in Knoxville, Chattanooga, and the Spirit of Christmas Parade at Rockwood.

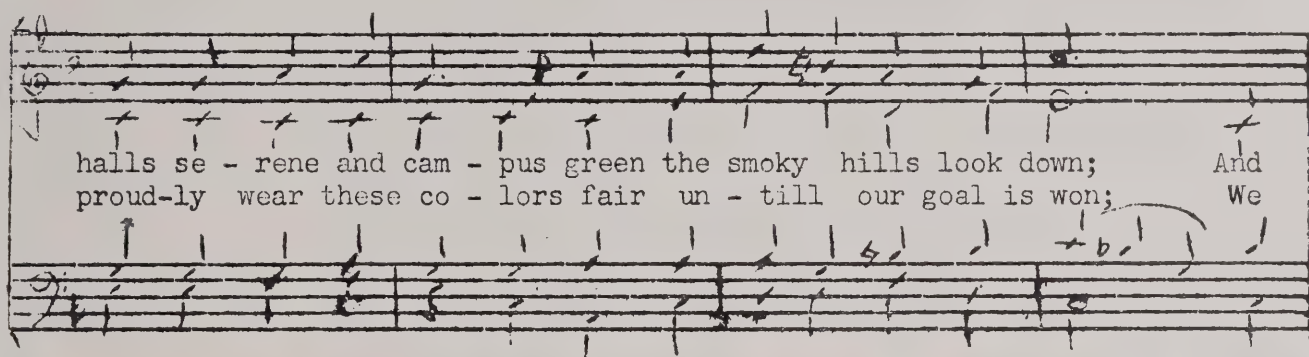

Tech's Dance Band has made several off-campus appearances, including a good-will tour of neighboring high schools. The orchestra is working steadily, and the advent of a full-time string instructor for next year augurs well for its future development.

The Music Club has had some interesting meetings, presenting soloists and ensembles on its programs. The Tech Choir furnished music for Religious Week activities, the annual White Christmas, and the Commencement programs. It also helped in various community organizations, and made appearances at several Middle and East Tennessee high schools, and on college assembly programs. Vocal soloists from the choir appeared in recitals and before church and civic groups.

One of the highlights of the departmental year was the presentation of the Oscar Strauss Opera Bouffe, "The Chocolate Soldier," on the evening of May 27, as a part of Commencement activities. The production featured soloists from the vocal department, the Tech Choir, and instrumental groups.

VETS BASEBALL TEAM

Although the Veterans Club falls slightly below last year's comprising two-thirds of the student body, it remains one of Tech's largest organizations. Their aim is to work for the general betterment of the veterans' living conditions on the campus, and already much has been done toward the improvement of the veterans' housing problem.

Having two of the most outstanding athletic teams on the campus, the club has made a record for itself both in the basketball and baseball circles.

ANGLERS CLUB

The Anglers Club was formed in the Spring of 1948 by a group interested in fishing and out-of-door sports. The main leaders include Pat Paterson, Wayne Carter, Carl Bradshaw, Joe Moore, Clay Church, Bill Barret, and Dan Lance.

To promote sportsmanship and to create a greater desire for out-of-doors sports are the purposes of the club. Each member dedicates himself to its pledge.

"I pledge to uphold and defend the fishing laws of the State of Tennessee and the various counties thereof; to encourage and cherish a desire for the great sport of fishing; and to consecrate ourselves to a state of mutual helpfulness."

SEASON'S RESUME

The Tech Eagles opened the 1948 grid campaign on September 18, at Morehead, Kentucky. The Morehead gridders showed a gruelling ground game and defeated Tech 19-7. The home-opener with Carson-Newman was a thriller with Tech passing and running to a 26-7 victory.

One week later the Eagles journeyed to Chattanooga to meet the University of Chattanooga Mocs. Tech outplayed the Chattanooga boys the first half and led at halftime 7-6. The Mocs came back and tallied two more touchdowns to win 18-7. Tech's last quarter passes carried deep into U. C. territory, but to no avail.

Georgetown, Kentucky defeated Tech 27-19 in Tech's poorest showing of the year, but sweet revenge was found the next game at home when the Tech men defeated Morehead 19-6, avenging the season's opener defeat. Tech then lost two straight games: to the University of Tennessee 41-0 and to Murray, Kentucky 34-6.

The Eagles made up their minds to salvage the remainder of the season and did so by displaying more spirit and fight than had been shown before. Maryville was defeated 21-0, but the following week Tech lost a hard fought battle to Wofford College, South Carolina, by the score of 8-6. Not to be dismayed, Tech went to Jackson, Tennessee, and defeated Union University 35-0. The crowning achievement came on Homecoming Day when the confidence of the M. T. S. C. Raiders was shaken as Tech hit hard to lead the Raiders 6-0 at the halftime. The Eagles came back and piled up more scores in the last half with the final score reading; Tech 32, M. T. S. C. 7. Another celebration on this day was the dedication of the Tech Athletic Field in the name and honor of P. V. Overall, now athletic director, who served for many years as head coach.

If the spirit and fight of the Eagles are maintained, Tech fans should look forward to some excellent games in 1949.

HARDWOOD DIGEST

The 1949 Eagle basketeters opened the season at David Lipscomb, losing 50-45, but came back the next game and defeated Cumberland University decisively. The University of Tennessee and Murray State defeated the Brown men, but Tech bounced back for two victories over L. M. U. and Union University.

Tech's best efforts after this were found in defeating the University of Chattanooga; Lawrence Tech, a "hot" team from Detroit; and Memphis State.

Meanwhile, having withdrawn from the V. S. A. C., Tech joined the Ohio Valley Conference, which is one of the best basketball conferences in the nation. The O. V. C. boasts such teams as Western Kentucky, Eastern Kentucky, Evansville, Louisville, and Murray. Tech played the opening game of the tourney against Western Kentucky and was defeated 73-42. Western went on to win the tournament.

Tech's hopes for basketball are high for next year with the return of several lettermen and the addition of high school and junior college stars. A complete O. V. C. schedule will be played next year.

INTRAMURALS

The Tech Intramural Program has continued to grow under the direction of Calvin Frey. The touch football league championship ended in a three-way tie between the Health and Physical Education Club, the Mathematics Club, and the Engineering Club. The Health and Physical Education Club defeated the Social Science Club for the basketball championship.

Boxing played a very important part in the intramural program, with several mid-state gloves and novice champions being from the Tech team.

Golf, softball, and track will take place in the spring.

In behalf of the student body and the entire Annual staff, we wish to thank those businessmen who have shown their interest and willingness to cooperate. The success of this book depends largely on the financial aid received from them. The entire student body is happy to patronize those who assist it.
